Creative Concept Justification:

For this assignment, I designed all the assets with the goal of making the app's benefits clear, engaging, and conversion-driven. I kept the visual language consistent by using orange and yellow tones from the logo, paired with darker backgrounds to create contrast and ensure the main features and CTAs stand out.

In the static ad, I placed the headline at the center to grab attention, supported by a simple visual of file compression (1GB to 100MB). I chose a bold Montserrat Roboto Serif font for across the headline and Roboto Regular and for the body to maintain readability across devices, while keeping text minimal to avoid clutter.

For the video ad, I created a vertical format with animated DM Serif Display text, quick transitions, and upbeat music to suit social media behavior. The flow begins with the problem, demonstrates the solution, and ends with a strong CTA.

In the app store screenshots, I focused on one feature or benefit per screen with bold titles and mockups for clarity on small displays.

For the carousel, I created a clear four-step story—problem, feature, benefit, and CTA—so users can easily swipe through and quickly understand the app's value.
